Caregiving is a universal reality that touches almost every family.

An astonishing 44 million Americans care for a parent, spouse, child, sibling, or friend with a physical or developmental disability, mental illness, or issues of aging. Here in our northern New Jersey region, more than 225,000 of our residents are unpaid family caregivers.

These unpaid family caregivers are the backbone of our nation’s health care system, providing 80 percent of long-term care in the home. If they stopped providing this essential day-to-day care, our health care system would be crippled by the added cost and stress on services.

For more than 10 years, United Way of Northern New Jersey has worked closely with family caregivers. We know the struggles caregivers face as they balance caregiving with work and family obligations.

We see how often caregivers put their own physical, emotional, and financial health at risk. The United Way Caregivers Coalition was established to ensure caregivers have access to the information, education, resources, services, and support they need. United Way remains committed to raising awareness of the vital role caregivers play.

In the last decade, we have grown. Today, United Way Caregivers Coalitions are established in Morris, Somerset, Sussex, Suburban Essex, and Warren counties. The Coalitions are a unique hub of information, education, and connection for caregivers. Made up of caregivers and the professionals who support them, the Coalition helps caregivers find the specific information and services they need.

Caregivers who tap into the Coalition report reduced stress, enhanced skills, improved access to resources, a renewed commitment to self care, and meaningful connection with one another. While many caregivers are able to attend monthly Coalition meetings, those who are too busy caregiving benefit from the Coalition’s network of support via email or phone.

Caregivers, we want you to know that United Way Caregivers Coalition is here for you. We hope that you, and others you may know, find Pathways for Caregivers a valuable resource.

Sincerely,

John B. Franklin

Help is here for family caregivers in New Jersey.

Over 1.7 million New Jersey residents care for older parents or other loved ones, helping them to live independently in their own homes. These family caregivers have a huge responsibility, and now there’s a new law that will make life a little bit easier for them. The CARE Act helps family caregivers from the moment their loved ones go into the hospital to when they return home.

For a free wallet card that highlights the benefits of the CARE Act, email us at aarpnj@aarp.org.

THANK YOU!
United Way Caregivers Coalition is here to help. Our mission is to improve the lives of caregivers by promoting knowledge of and action around caregiving issues. We work to ensure that people who are caregivers identify themselves as such and have access to the information, education, resources, services, and support to sustain them in their role.

The Coalition is unique in that it works on behalf of caregivers “across the lifespan.” A parent caring for a child with a disability shares many of the same caregiving issues as a spouse caring for a partner who has had a stroke or an adult child caring for a parent with issues of aging.

ALL ARE WELCOME
Open to all, our membership includes caregivers, nonprofit and for-profit service providers, government agencies, faith-based groups, corporations, and community members. Our monthly meetings are open to anyone interested in caregiving issues.

Chances are that you know many ALICEs, or that you are an ALICE yourself.

ALICE (Asset Limited, Income Constrained, Employed) is a friend, neighbor, or family member that is working in a job essential to our community, but does not earn enough to afford even the basics.

We all depend on many ALICEs throughout our day – the home health aide caring for our grandmother with dementia, the child care teacher looking after our toddler while we work, the bank teller who helps us keep our finances in order.

United Way is working to improve conditions for all, starting with improving the quality of life for ALICE. We LIVE UNITED to fight for hard-working ALICE households.
